DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-14, drawn to a method for treating a neurodegenerative disease by administering an agent that inhibits the ADP-ribosylation of EF-2, classified in class 424, subclass 190.1.
- II. Claims 15-19, 21-26 drawn to a method for determining if an agent is useful for treating a neurodegenerative disease, classified in class 436, subclass 86.
- III. Claim 20, drawn to an agent effective in preventing inhibition of translation by diphtheria toxin, classified in class 514, subclass 789.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are patentably distinct from each other. The method of treating a neurodegenerative disease of group I and the method for determining if an agent is useful in treating neurodegenerative disease of group II, are unrelated as they comprise distinct steps, utilize different products and produce different results. The groups have acquired separate status in the art and separate fields of search as further evidenced by their separate classification.

Inventions III and I are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the agent can be used as a general inhibitor of protein synthesis in a mammalian cell culture as opposed to its use in the method of group I.

Art Unit: 1652

Inventions III and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the agent can be used in screening whether it inhibits the translation of other proteins as opposed to its use in the method of group II.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
